

Organogenesis to Expand Into China Market

December 10, 2007

Organogenesis, Inc., a Canton-based regenerative medicine company, announced today that it has signed a memorandum of understanding with China's National Tissue Engineering Center.

The Boston Globe

The center is a stem cell and regenerative medicine consortium, the company said.

Organogenesis said it formed the agreement with the center while visiting China as a delegate of a Massachusetts trade mission headed by Governor Deval L. Patrick.

The agreement includes the commercialization and exporting of existing Organogenesis technology, including its signature product, Apligraf[®], which Organogenesis describes as a "bio-active wound healing" product.
